Description

The HP Z2 Mini G9 is designed to deliver workstation-grade performance in a compact form. Powered by Intel Core processors, it handles demanding tasks like rendering and 3D modeling, making it ideal for professionals who require high performance without the bulk of traditional desktop computers.

Professional Graphics

It supports NVIDIA or AMD graphics, making it perfect for intensive applications like CAD and 3D rendering, delivering seamless performance during design and engineering workflows.

Expandability

Despite its size, the Z2 Mini G9 allows for easy expansion of memory and storage, offering support for two drives to enable fast data access and adaptability as needs grow.

Efficient Cooling and Security

The sophisticated cooling system ensures quiet and efficient operation under heavy workloads. It also includes HP Wolf Security for protection against cyber threats, making it reliable for business environments. Additionally, it carries the ENERGY STAR® certification, supporting energy efficiency, reducing operational costs, and contributing to sustainability goals.
